ENGLAND.
WORLD'S EVANGELICAL ALLIANCE.
London, April 1.—A. Cunningham, secretary, has been appointed to make arrangements for the visit of an English Delegation to the World's Congress of Evangelical Alliance at New York next autumn. The delegates will probably be the Rev. Dr. Johnson, Prof. Blaikie, Canon Freeman, Dean Wetherill, and Rev. Messrs. Dale, Harris, Cairns, and Alexander.

BOND.
J. L. Morgan and Co. have introduced mortgage bonds of the St. Louis Bridge Co. into the market.

REMARKABLE SCENE.
Advisors from Rome report a remarkable scene at a recent sitting of the Roman Congress. Cardinal Schwarzenberg and Bishop Sismeyr endeavored to urge a policy of conciliation, and while speaking in favorable terms of the Protestants and objecting to the anathemas directed against them as arrogant and profane, they were silenced by the angry uproar of the assembly.

AMERICAN DESPATCHES.
THANKS TO GRANT—HE MAKES A SPEECH.
WASHINGTON, April 1.—The Committee from the First Ward Republican Club waited on President Grant today and tendered their thanks on behalf of the colored people for making the ratification of the 15th amendment the subject of a message to Congress, and for the interest he had manifested in promoting the political and social interests. The President was surrounded this evening by a large number of the colored people, and he said: "I can assure you that no consideration since the close of the war has given me so much pleasure as the ratification of the 15th amendment by three-fourths of the States of the Union. I have felt the greatest anxiety over this matter, and I have been glad to know that this was to be secured. It looked like a restoration of the Declaration of Independence." The President's Colfax also made a short address.

THE SCHOOL DIFFICULTIES.
The Western Union Telegraph Co. of the California line, is an article on the election to be held next week for the position of the Public School, and the very strongly urged the necessity of the distribution of the colored people to the schools of their own race, and to the schools of the white race.

Huntington Railroad Meeting. in Six.—By request your correspondent attended at the Railroad meeting held in town Hall of Huntington, on Monday last, and thinking that some of our readers would like to know what the Huntington ratepayers think of Railroad, I will your permission give a brief sketch of proceedings of that meeting which was very large, considering the bad state of roads. At the hour appointed, the Honorable the Mayor, Mr. J. C. Smith, took the Chair, and after calling the meeting to order, and briefly stating that the object of the meeting was to give the ratepayers an opportunity of discussing the propriety of giving a bonus to assist in building a Railroad from Madoc to Kingston the Chairman in answer to Mr. Flindley's motions, said he did not think it prudent

A discussion arose respecting the shipment of Chassey by rail to the west. Mr. Ostrander asked to see the form of the argument presented by Mr. Huntington. He was asked by Mr. Huntington should be asked to build a railroad before the promoters could be asked to build a stock company, which he consented to be the first step in the right direction.

Mr. James Haggerty being called on to express his views, said he could not see as to what the Township of Huntington could do. He said that the road was a good road having turn of the road, with regard to Mr. Ostrander's proposition, he said that it might be all very well for those interested but that he was not guarantee for those at a distance to take the expenditure.

Mr. J. J. Ryan, who was the next speaker, said, in reference to the railroad, that he was serious made by some of the speakers, he had quite a different opinion to express. He was sure from what it had cost to build other roads that the ones from Madoc could not be built for less than $100 per mile. He stated on behalf of some road builders. He referred to stage of the meeting to express his respecting the proposed Railroad, but the matter before the meeting, to rise and if it was thought proper, he declared that Mr. Wood, the Vice President of the Farmers' Alliance, was actually present, as he was expected to give information on this Railroad question. He then asked any other gentleman present, in support of the Railroad scheme would come forward and address the meeting.

Geo. Graham called on Mr. James Wood of the village of Tweed, as an advocate of the proposed Railroad.

Wood rose forward and made a clever, eloquent speech, in favor of the Railroad. He was very ingeniously and systematically refuted and benefited to secure to himself the choice of different markets, and the same time reduce the price of the grain to the buyers of Belleville, and the system the latter adopted of having their grain carried to the river by means of the grain buyers to fleece the farmers and related the old grievance originated Railway Station showing where roads built $15,000 per mile, and offered evidence of his assertions that the Grand Trunk was in debt to the Government to the tune of some $15,000,000 and the Great Western some $5,000,000. He should like to raise a Joint Stock Company formed, and there would be some grounds for asking the Government for a bonus. He did not believe the Belleville grain buyers were dishonest. If the farmers were to be paid for the wheat, the market would combine as well as other markets. He was satisfied with the accommodations Belleville. Its officers and banks were easy to do business with, and the prices of wheat, and should not be disparaged. Farmers seek a market at a Station where they can get the best price for their wheat, whatever price they can get and at any rate, it was not for four years the life of a new railway.

Mr. John Francis being called on, took the stand and commenced his address by reviewing the advantages of having local railroads. He said that the Government was not aware that although they might be accused of being dishonest in trying to further the construction of the railroad from Madoc to Kingston, cited instances where local train roads were first introduced and afterwards became the roads of great magnitude, paying the stockholders 12 1/2 per cent. As to the extravagance of the Grand Trunk, referred to by Mr. By, that was no criterion to go by, as the owners of that road did not live in this country and did not trouble themselves whether they put either passengers or freight.

then proceeded to show the growing prosperity of the Township of Markham. He said to Toronto than Huntlanddom in Belleville, all by the means of Railroad Communication. He next referred to some of the adoo farmers who had to draw their to Belleville last fall, when at that time should be doing their fall ploughing, having to draw hay-bazard, were and to remain over night in Belleville, to the night of tavern keepers, whose stables filled with farmers' horses. Whereas, if he had a place to dispose of their horses, they could go as riders.

He referred to some of the Madoc farmers having sustained great loss in drawing off their produce and necessarily having to neglect their farming operations. Some of them having to hold over their grain to sell at present prices

He understood the present taxation one quarter higher than last year. Mr. Morton and some others disputed his that the railroad would enhance the value of the property in Huntington, for which they would only have to pay some 15 cents on the dollar.

Mr. Haggerty wanted to be informed where the promoters of this Railroad would get authentic freight to pay running expenses.

Mr. Francis said there were large marbles, quarries, and any quantity of mines of mineral ready for development, and for the information of Mr. Haggerty, he would briefly state that in the valley of the Mississippi where he had been travelling, he was delighted with the luxuriant scenery presenting itself all around, but on looking tion, but Mr. Rold seemed well posted on the subject, acquitted himself like a and occupied his post for over three hours of an hour, after which he took his seat.

Henry Ostrom, Chairman, being an opponent, had evaded committing himself as to what he thought of the proposed Railroad bill. He then reviewed Mr. Reid's statements, commenting on his assertions, and was dissented from him in reference to the proposed benefit to be derived by the citizens of Huntington, that previous to the coming he was half disposed to be a Railroad man, but seeing Mr. Reid had exaggerated the benefit to be accruing to Huntington, he did not help telling him that the supposed benefit would not buy grease for the wheels of the cars. He did wonder if that locality and passing into Indiana was surprised at the contrast, nothing for time seemed to please the eye, yet a sterile place was rich in ore, and easily mined by means of a Railroad pass through it, and machinery constructed to obtain the ore by an easy process, and about this Madoc and Kingston Railroad be built, the Belleville people can make a branch road and tap it so that you can have a Station Thomasburg or Roslin.

Mr. Simmon Ashley said it was no use these men trying to draw the wool over their eyes. The Railroad was all nonsense, as would guarantee that Bob Simmones would with his team, draw off from Madoc over parcels of surplus stuff they raised in Madoc.

Mr. Geo. Graham was the next speaker, said he was in favor of free speech, and Ostrom asked Mr. Reid, who was going sorry to see so much interruption given to former speakers. He was (favorable to Railroad enterprise; had attended one of the Wood's Railroad meetings at Thomasburg had heard him patiently, and although he said many things relative to the benefit of Railroads, he could not endorse all he said. But if we expect to reap a benefit from Railroads we have a corresponding outlay. Mr. Graham, said our farmers having grain to sell, had but one market, Bellefonte only. He knew from experience that market competition was the life of trade. He referred to certain combinations amongst grain buyers the expenses of the Director's travel throughout the country. No doubt, one would have to pay the amount of

Mr. Wm. Bird said it would be the same game in Tread if they only had a similar opportunity. He did not think it was fair to the Bellertites. It was quite evident that some times the Bellertite buyers were heavy losers in consequence of the fluctuation in prices on the other side. He belittled in supporting their own markets where they could get as good prices as elsewhere.

Several other speakers were anxious to get a opportunity of expressing their views on the great railroad question. The Chairman was asked by several people who considered they had more than enough about railroads to bring the meeting to a close, which he did by taking a vote for and against the granting a bonus, which resulted in all except one voting against granting a bonus, and the terminated the Huntington Railroad meeting.

House of Lords.

LONDON, April 7.—In the House of Lords the bill to-day, on the motion of Lord Lansdowne, a private bill from Ireland was introduced. Other proceedings unimportant.

House of Commons.

In the House of Commons, Mr. Childers, First Lord of the Admiralty, said that Capt. Lambert, of the man-of-war "Daphne," now cruising in the Pacific, had been directed to use the utmost vigilance to arrest a depredation of South Sea Islanders.

RED RIVER DIFFICULTIES.

Mr. Russell, Under Foreign Secretary, in reply to a question, informed the House that nothing had been done about the Red River difficulty since the 24th of March, when the Government sent full instructions to the Canadian authorities.

IRISH LAND BILL.

The House resumed consideration of the Irish Land Bill in Committee. Mr. Russell, member for Limerick County, moved an amendment providing that an evicted tenant be entitled to damages equal to 10 years' rent, but not to exceed £50.

Mr. Gladstone opposed this, though he said he was willing to provide for free contract, under the provisions of the Bill had been observed for a given number of years, discretion being left to the Courts. Mr. Gladstone proceeded to discuss and defend other clauses of the Bill.

Mr. Gladstone hardly admitted that the most objectionable features of the Bill had been removed.

Mr. Russell Palmer was willing to further change. Earl Grey thought the bill an adroit scheme for securing long leases from reluctant landlords.

Mrs. Han and O'Connell secured some years of grace.

Mr. Symonds' amendment and several others were withdrawn or rejected.

Mr. Gladstone, after referring to concessions already made with reluctance, said the denial of all compensation to the landlord was a denial of freedom of contract and limitation of damages, to £50, which were proposed in amendment offered by Mr. Fowler, were equally arbitrary and unjust. He expressed solicitude to the Committee to accept concessions made by the Government, ready to extremes as to allocate many Irish supporters.

The House divided on Mr. Fowler's amendment with the following result: For amendment, 218; against, 251; majority for Government, 33. The Committee reported, and the House adjourned.

More Grumbling.

As I would like to explain, through the medium of your Journal, what the Street Committee of the Town Council will be, that Belleville contains more streets than there was the police will discover, that they have other duties to perform besides prosecuting the worst class of Front Street from the Police Office and Bridge Street corner, "from home till they are out."

Hotel Street is next to Front Street, the most frequented street of the town, and to state as it is, that the drainage and sewerage works are truly disgraceful. A day's work of three or four men would open the communication of the drains now closed by the stone wall, and a wall of a policeman to the owners and owners of property between the Bank of Montreal and Dr. Stewart's residence, and perhaps induce parties in question to obey the By-Law, and remove the rotten log and sludge from the sidewalks in front of their premises, and render possible for pedestrians to walk in comfort, without the danger of falls on the one hand or wet feet, catarrhs, and consequent trouble on the other.

Respectfully yours,

WATERBURY.

Red River Items.

The Red River items are of interest to the people of this section. The following are the items of interest to the people of this section.

The Penitentiaries. We have received the first annual report of the Director, Penitentiaries, for the Dominion, for the year 1897. The report is a valuable one, and gives a full and complete account of the work of the Penitentiaries in the Dominion.

The number of male convicts in the Kingston Penitentiary on the 1st of January, 1898, was 334, of whom 73 were male, 60 female, and 19 were convict females.

In the St. John Penitentiary, at the same time there were 110 males and 21 females. In the Halifax Penitentiary there were 55 males and 3 females.

The admissions to the Kingston Penitentiary during 1897 were 244, and the departures were 210, of which 251 were by expiration of sentence.

Among the districts which sent the greatest number of convicts to the Penitentiary during the year 1897 were: Montreal, 20; Quebec, 15; Bedford, 10. All these districts are in the Province of Quebec, and the total number from that Province was 70.

The districts sending the greatest number from the Province of Ontario were: Toronto, 20; County of Brant, 11; West-worth and Hamilton, 8. Several counties of 7 and 8; Hastings sent 4. The total number of convicts sent to the Penitentiary from Ontario during the year 1897 was 138.

The prevailing crimes committed by the prisoners appear to have been larceny and robbery; there having been 115 sentenced for the former crime, and 20 for the latter. The age most favorable to the commission of high crimes appears to be from 19 to 38 inclusive, there having been 133 convicts between those limits sent to the Kingston Penitentiary during the year 1897.

One convict was but 13 years of age, while another had reached the ripe age of 72. Among the crimes committed by convicts during the year 1897 were: Baptists 4; Church of England, 7; Roman Catholics, 1; Lutherans, 3; Methodist, 40; no religion 1; Presbyterian, 16; Roman Catholic, 90; making a total of 243.

Sixty were sentenced for two years; 60 for three years; 14 for four years; 37 for five years; 10 for seven years, and 14 for life. All the rest, few in number, for intermediate years.

Seventy-five of the convicts for the year 1897 were married; 103 were single; 11 were widowers, and 3 were widows.

The races of the convicts are thus stated: White, 236; Negroes, 6; Mulattoes, 4; Indians, 4. The nationalities are thus given: English, 70; Scotch, 30; French, 40; American, 30; German, 30; Italian, 40; African.

The financial position of the Penitentiary is very different to that of the year 1896, in which the figures are given. But if we understand the figures the disbursement during the year amounted to $100,500, while the receipts were $54,920.

The Warden, in his report relating to punishment, says: "The punishment for slight breaches of discipline is by the loss of bread, water, and light. For more serious offenses, the punishment is by the loss of bread, water, and light, and by the loss of the right to work."

QUEBEC, MONDAY, APRIL 11.

Police. The officials had a holiday today, there being no business to come before the Court.

Town Council. The meeting of Council which should have taken place to-night, as postponed on account of the Clerk's being called to Ottawa.

No. 1 FIRE COMPANY. The Company will assemble to-night in the Town Hall, to receive the flag to be presented by the ladies of Belleville. Eight o'clock in the hour appointed.

DEATH FROM SMALL POX. Mr. Henry Chapman, member of the House of Commons for King's County, Nova Scotia, died in the Hospital, Ottawa, on the 9th from small pox, aged 58 years.

FRONTIER ELECTION. The Kingston News says that Mr. Jas. Cartwright has determined to offer himself as a candidate for the vacancy in the representation of the County of Frontenac.

THE REVENUE CASE. The Revenue case which has been pending in the Supreme Court since the 1st of March, is now being argued by Mr. J. H. Macdonald, for the Crown, and Mr. J. H. Macdonald, for the defendant.

THE FENIAN RAID. A despatch from Ottawa says: "The anticipated raid on the Eastern frontier, is set down for Good Friday. Some of the volunteer companies in that section will be on the alert."

CANADIAN ILLUSTRATED NEWS. The latest issue of this journal is a capital one. There is an improvement in the illustrations, and the reading matter is of the most interesting character. The engraving representing the effect of the two telegrams respecting the "City of Boston," is well designed and well executed. The News deserves support from the Canadian people.

A GRIT MEETING. The Grits of Toronto, not satisfied with the popular expression of sympathy for the suffering Canadians at Red River, and their silence of the matter of Scott's got up a meeting on their own account on Saturday and pitched into the Government in blood and thunder style. It is a pity these Toronto Grits can't get above party cries and issues, in view of a great national question.

VENTURE. Yesterday afternoon an individual seated in a cutter drawn by a stage horse, drove upon the ice near the wharves and bolsters, and was hurled across the bay. His progress was watched by a number of people assembled at the wharves, who expected to see both horse and driver disappear. He succeeded, however, in crossing safely. Part of the crowd followed by the strenuous John yesterday is open water.

Sixty were sentenced for two years; 60 for three years; 14 for four years; 37 for five years; 10 for seven years, and 14 for life. All the rest, few in number, for intermediate years.

Seventy-five of the convicts for the year 1897 were married; 103 were single; 11 were widowers, and 3 were widows.

The races of the convicts are thus stated: White, 236; Negroes, 6; Mulattoes, 4; Indians, 4. The nationalities are thus given: English, 70; Scotch, 30; French, 40; American, 30; German, 30; Italian, 40; African.

The financial position of the Penitentiary is very different to that of the year 1896, in which the figures are given. But if we understand the figures the disbursement during the year amounted to $100,500, while the receipts were $54,920.

The Warden, in his report relating to punishment, says: "The punishment for slight breaches of discipline is by the loss of bread, water, and light. For more serious offenses, the punishment is by the loss of bread, water, and light, and by the loss of the right to work."

The Red River items are of interest to the people of this section. The following are the items of interest to the people of this section.

The Penitentiaries. We have received the first annual report of the Director, Penitentiaries, for the Dominion, for the year 1897. The report is a valuable one, and gives a full and complete account of the work of the Penitentiaries in the Dominion.

The number of male convicts in the Kingston Penitentiary on the 1st of January, 1898, was 334, of whom 73 were male, 60 female, and 19 were convict females.

In the St. John Penitentiary, at the same time there were 110 males and 21 females. In the Halifax Penitentiary there were 55 males and 3 females.

The admissions to the Kingston Penitentiary during 1897 were 244, and the departures were 210, of which 251 were by expiration of sentence.

Among the districts which sent the greatest number of convicts to the Penitentiary during the year 1897 were: Montreal, 20; Quebec, 15; Bedford, 10. All these districts are in the Province of Quebec, and the total number from that Province was 70.

The districts sending the greatest number from the Province of Ontario were: Toronto, 20; County of Brant, 11; West-worth and Hamilton, 8. Several counties of 7 and 8; Hastings sent 4. The total number of convicts sent to the Penitentiary from Ontario during the year 1897 was 138.

The prevailing crimes committed by the prisoners appear to have been larceny and robbery; there having been 115 sentenced for the former crime, and 20 for the latter. The age most favorable to the commission of high crimes appears to be from 19 to 38 inclusive, there having been 133 convicts between those limits sent to the Kingston Penitentiary during the year 1897.

One convict was but 13 years of age, while another had reached the ripe age of 72. Among the crimes committed by convicts during the year 1897 were: Baptists 4; Church of England, 7; Roman Catholics, 1; Lutherans, 3; Methodist, 40; no religion 1; Presbyterian, 16; Roman Catholic, 90; making a total of 243.

Sixty were sentenced for two years; 60 for three years; 14 for four years; 37 for five years; 10 for seven years, and 14 for life. All the rest, few in number, for intermediate years.

Marvelous Growth of the English Merchant Marine.

The Liverpool docks are now the wonder of the commercial world. Their capacity for the accommodation of steam shipping is 1,200,000 tons, and yet so small a fleet is this that a new branch dock is to be added to these magnificent structures that now adorn the Mersey. The occasion of this expansion is a most fitting commentary on the state of the world's commerce. The Cunard Company is to increase its fleet of twenty steamers by four new vessels of 3,500 tons each; the Harland & Wolff have lately added two more ships to its former fleet, the Queen line, with its steamers on the station has two of 8,000 tons, and each upon the stocks; the National Steam Company is to add four vessels of 4,000 tons each to its present fleet of eight; and the Southern Steamship Company is to add five vessels aggregating 10,000 tons. This sudden swelling of the foreign navy steamer fleet is playing into the hands of the English merchant marine, and is a great increase of over 100 per cent in the trade between Liverpool and the United States alone. There is yet to be taken into account the case of the Montreal Ocean Steamship Company, which, to its extensive vessels of 6,000 tons each, is soon to add two steamers of 8,000 tons each.

And now for South America. The Pacific Steam Navigation Company has had four ships trading to Rio Janeiro, Montevideo, and Valparaiso, and now raises its fleet with one bound to nine. The Brazilian and River Plate line, the Liverpool and Pernambuco, and the Para and Maranhão, now comprise, with the other lines, a fleet of twenty-four large ships, five of which are of the latest type. Thus comes the West India Line, which runs up the total of steam shipping from Liverpool to the New World to very close upon a hundred large ships, built and building.

Liverpool does not stop here. There is the African Royal; the Bombay and Bengal; the Calcutta via the Cape; the Indian Sea; or rather several lines already operating on this route; and various Mediterranean lines, aggregating from eighty to one hundred more steamships, most of them of the largest class. With this fleet of over two hundred magnificent ocean steamers, no wonder that Liverpool needs to enlarge her docks. It is not recorded that New York is troubled in this way. — New York Post.

Will and Humor.

Young ladies, says the New York Post, may admire their elegances, but they ought not to be carried away with him. 'What are you doing with my microscope, Fred?' 'I've been shaving myself father, and I want to see if there is any hair in the latter.' Moderately has found its highest development in the person of a Boston lady who asked a dry goods clerk for bleached cloth suitable for repassing robes. 'What is on occasion?' asked a schoolmaster of his class. 'An inward monitor,' replied a bright little boy. 'And what's a monitor?' 'One of the monitors.'

It is vain to touch your finger in the water and pulling it out, look for a hole; and equally vain to suppose that however large a space you occupy the world will miss you when you have passed on.

The author of a novel, just out, wishing to say that her heroine opened her mouth, thus expresses herself: 'The pretty coral door, keepers of her words, gave way, and a low, mellow laugh ran out from them.'

A convict in Sing Sing prison (New York), who speaks seven languages, when asked 'If that was the reason of his being here, would he go?' 'No, no,' he replied, 'I came not here for speaking so many languages, but for writing so many bad ones.'

'Well,' said Douglas Jerrold to the collector of a fund for the poor, 'how much does it cost?' 'What the time?' 'Why, just four and two pence with, I think, put him straight,' the bearer of the hat replied. 'Well,' said Jerrold, 'put me down for one of these beggars.'

Men are generally like waggons; they rest prodigiously when there is nothing in them.

It is truly the soul of wit, what a heap of fun there must be in the tail of a fashionable coat.

The man whose head was fairly turned away is feels very uncomfortable in that position.

We should more seldom take offence at each other, if we looked closer at why we thus the wist.

A celebrated author writes: 'Men will travel for religion; write for it; fight for it; die for it; anything but—live for it.'

To be happy at anything is the ultimate result of all ambition, the end to which every energy and labor tends, and of which every desire prompts the prosecution.

CITIZENS, a drama which contains a great deal of good, can be instantly refuted and refuted again, and is a most interesting and valuable work for all to read and to be read.

No. 293

Meekers, Dawson and Camaron arrived in Houston last Sunday morning having left Fort Leavenworth Sunday, 14th of March, a little less than a week ago. It may be remembered that they were two of the local party captured in the house of Dr. Schultz. The spectator gives the following account of an interview with them:—

Since then he has been employed upon government works in the Territory until the moment of his imprisonment for his loyalty. Mr. Cameron is by birth a Canadian, of Scotch parentage.

These gentlemen confirm the report of Riell's growing debauchery, having frequently seen him under the influence of liquor while themselves prisoners. They and have no great opinion of his abilities, regarding Donohoe as the cleverer of the two. The latter is an avowed Fenian, and exercises much influence among the rebels. Row, they speak of almost with contempt, as being held in respect by nobody. Brouse, the former president, is represented as a man of mediocre talent and comparatively moderate views. They confirm the report of Riell's anxiety to escape with the Hudson's Bay Company.

There is no doubt but that Riell deliberately ordered the execution (the whole of whose horrible details are now confirmed) as an act of policy, to which, for the first time, we are offered the key. He hoped thereby to secure beyond suspicion the allegiance of his soldiers, having since repeatedly told them that they all now fought with their necks in the noose, and thought it inevitable the best of them would all inevitably be hanged.

Poor Scott is spoken of by his late fellow prisoners in the highest terms as a thoroughly manly, independent Briton, devoted in his allegiance and indomitable in his pluck.

However, the travellers found nothing but sentiments of the deepest abhorrence for the fate of the murderer. They are much gratified at the tone pervading Canada; but, in reply to questions as to whether the knowledge at Red River, of a state of public feeling here, would actively influence resistance to the flogging, stated emphatically that nothing short of the actual presence of troops would be sufficient to rouse the loyalists to action. Mr.

There were few English speaking advocates before government that they may be reckoned on as siders. First comes Bonahue, then Scott (the delegate), then J. J. ... a handful of Americans, then one old British pensioner, and lastly one young named Garner, who had been a pensioner. One of the ...

There came no longer the slightest hint on the assumption of the truth of a delusion that the whole disturbance was instigated, fermented and maintained by the clergy. At this moment the Archbishop's Bishop Pacho could not have been so deceived. If he had not been, the moral could be a welcome one.

Scott and Richot, the two delegates, are the most ardent supporters. Richot has steadily denounced from the altar all violence to join in the rebellion, and has been a parish rod by his influence.

M. D. A. entrains. Many of the reasons for their presence in the East are the riders of their own ignorance and the knowledge that a small, isolated community who do not possess a tradition to the contrary is a weaker and more right hand.

But the reception of two such groups by a government assuming to be a modern one seems hardly Canada's Battles.

Canada's battles are not the only ones that have taken place in this country. There have been many others, and they have all been fought with the same result. The only difference is in the number of the combatants. In some cases, the number has been small, and in others, it has been large. But the result has always been the same. The stronger has always won, and the weaker has always been defeated. This is the law of nature, and it is the law of war. It is the law that governs the world, and it is the law that will govern the future. It is the law that we must all obey, and it is the law that we must all accept. It is the law that we must all live by, and it is the law that we must all die by. It is the law that we must all follow, and it is the law that we must all respect. It is the law that we must all love, and it is the law that we must all fear. It is the law that we must all honor, and it is the law that we must all worship. It is the law that we must all obey, and it is the law that we must all accept. It is the law that we must all live by, and it is the law that we must all die by. BELEVEILLE, FRIDAY, APRIL 21

BRITISH ORDER OF GOOD TEMPLARS.—The members of this Order are expected to give full attendance to night, as there is special business to be attended to.

WARDEN OF THE PENITENTIARY DEAD.—Mr. James Mott Fergus, warden of the Kingston Penitentiary, whose death has been hourly expected for the last few days, died yesterday afternoon, aged 55 years.

EXHIBITION.—In the resolution respecting the measurement of work, passed at the public meeting on Wednesday night, and which appears in our yesterday's issue for "pine wood," Mr. read "fire wood."

DIFFIDENTLY SENTENCED.—Judge Galt gave sentence yesterday in the Red River case—the prisoner being condemned to one month's imprisonment in the Common Gaol for misfeasance, in obtaining the signatures of Messrs. Dickson and Hartigan by false pretences, and for four years in the Penitentiary for larceny.

PRIGENT RATES TO LIVERPOOL.—By a recent circular we learn that the through rates from Belleville to Liverpool or Glasgow via Grand Trunk Railway and Canadian line of Steamers, are as follows:

First per barrel.....$5 sterling.
 Second per barrel.....$4 do.
 Third per barrel.....$3 do.
 Grain, per 400 lbs. in shiploads.....$4 do.

RED RIVER.—Mr. Hartard has arrived in town, and will deliver his lecture on "Red River" this evening, in Ontario Hall. At the conclusion of his remarks, descriptive of this famous country, Mr. H. will give the meeting the result of his observations on the insurrectionary movement. The lecture is highly spoken of by the press, and we bespeak a good house.

A PALM ALARM.—Between 3 and 9 o'clock last night, an alarm was raised. The fire alarm bell was rung. The firemen of both companies turned out quickly, but luckily their services were not needed, the cause of the outcry being simply an open stove door, and some wood, which had been left there, flaming brightly, which attracted the attention of the firemen on hand.

THE RED RIVER.—In the Senate Committee on the North-West Territory, Mr. Garrett of Red River, was examined as to the resources of that country. The evidence taken has had a powerful influence on the minds of members of both Houses, in convincing them of the fertility of the soil, and desirability of its becoming a part of the Dominion as speedily as possible.

DROWNED.—Last evening a young lad about five years old, son of Mr. Frost, chair maker, was missed and is supposed to be drowned. When last seen he was standing on some boards near Frost's Chair Factory, and it is thought he slipped from the boards and fell into the current, which at that point is very rapid. No one has been able to find him. Search has been made for the body, but it has not been found up to the time of going to press.

THE DELIBERATE.—The prisoners Riche and Scott were brought before the Police Magistrate, Ottawa, yesterday afternoon and several witnesses were called, among whom were Judge Bell, Wm. Dryden, Chas. Garrett and Capt. Chas. Bonfield, all lately from Red River. The deed of Scott by shooting was proved. It was proved that Father Riche was "active in directing the insurgents." The case was adjourned until Saturday, in order to produce additional evidence. Bell was then taken for both parties to appear from time to time, as follows:—Dr. Beaman $250 each, and defendant in the sum of $500; Chas. Bonfield, in the case of Scott, Mr. Horace Lapierre and Mr. Andrew Ropelle in the sum of $430 each, and defendant in the sum of $500. The prisoners were then released on bail.

—Members of the Boston dress-makers have living instead of wooden shoe models on which to exhibit the new spring fashions.

Succulent Policy.

Unwilling to believe that the Government intended to send only 1,000 men to Red River, and hoping there might be some mistake in the reports received, we have refrained from commenting upon the matter. There is no longer any doubt, however, that 1,000 men is the number, seven hundred volunteers and three hundred regulars, our Government have determined to send to establish Canadian authority in the Red River Territory. We don't know nor don't care who the advisers of the Minister of War are; whether they are right or wrong, we don't know what we want, or don't care how the struggle ends, but on behalf of the people of Ontario, and on behalf of the seven hundred volunteers who are willing to risk their lives in defence of their country, and to avenge the murder of the martyred Scott, we protest against such a succulent policy. It is perfect madness. It is worse: it is criminal.

If Riel means fight, and we have every reason to believe he is prepared for it, what can one thousand men do, after travelling two or three months through a snow and rough country, harassed as they are by the Indians, and the few regulars, most of whom are the best shots in the world, against the 1,000 or 2,000 men Riel can bring against them? Of the thousand men who would have these shores not so directly a movement is being made by all along that perilous road their bones would lie as monuments of the stupidity and criminal neglect of the Canadian Government. Unless it is intended to hand the Territory over to the French Canadians, and let Riel and his followers have full swing, not less than four or five thousand men should form the Red River expedition.

The half-breeds are not the only enemy our soldiers will have to meet. There is a great reason to believe that the French will make Red River their chief objective point. It furnishes them the easiest and best field in which to operate, and from all that is transpiring, there is no doubt that already a movement is being made by that organization to send men and supplies into that Territory. In view of these things, then, is it not madness to attempt to crush the rebellion, drive back the Fenians, and restore peace to that Territory, with simply one thousand men?

There are those in the community who are willing to believe that French influence is so powerful in the Cabinet, as to render whatever movement may be made for the North-West very early and permanently secured. We are not disposed to concur in this belief, but must leave the action of the authorities in connection with this affair, from first to last, to be such as to almost justify this opinion.

The people of this Dominion are willing and anxious to secure the North-West, and are ready to give whatever money or force that may be needed to accomplish this result, and to vindicate the honor of the nation. But they don't want to see their money squandered and human life wasted by such a fool-hardy expedition as is proposed. Enough men to crush the rebellion, and to drive back the Fenians, would be enough to do the country should be sent, and to do this effectually, and with little loss of life, will require at least 4,000 men. It would be perfect madness to send less.

Calling for Volunteers.

The following order has been received by Lt. Col. Brown, to which we wish to call attention. It is, to say the least, not extraordinary. No volunteer will know under whom he is to serve. We are not prepared to say this is a reason why men should not volunteer, but it is a fact which it is difficult to understand what the Militia Department intends doing. Is it rich to take a Lt. Col. first, that the men be sent to undergo a medical examination at Kingston; second, that they not be found physically fit, they would be sent back at the Colonel's expense? Is it intended that the Colonel should make the examination himself before forwarding the men to Kingston; or what is intended? We leave these points for the consideration of those interested, asking, however, the careful attention of the public to this very precious and extraordinary circular.

CIRCULAR.

"Gentlemen, April 19, 1870
 Sir,—I have the honor to request that you will be good enough to select from your corps (7) seven smart active men for service in a Battalion from Ontario, to be enlisted for one year, or two years if required by Her Majesty."

"This corps is intended to form part of an expeditionary force to Red River."

"In making the selection, it is necessary that you should recommend some men who are healthy and sound in every particular. A preference should be given to those who have trade or can use an ax and have a knowledge of wood craft. They must be sober and of good character, with confidence to that effect from you. They will have to undergo a medical examination at Kingston before being sworn in."

"You will be responsible that the men sent to Headquarters are physically fit for duty as soldiers."

"A transport requisition will be forwarded to you on your notification of the number you can send, but if any man is sent examination at Kingston is found unfit, he will be sent back at your expense."

Parliament Yesterday.

Mr. Francis Hincks moved concurrence in the report of the Committee of Supply, and the several clauses down to 17 were carried.

On the item $10,000 for the Dominion office, Nova Scotia, Hon. Mr. Holton moved, that the amount be reduced to $6,500. Carried by a vote of 69 to 66.

Mr. Hincks moved that the House resolve that Government should have deemed it necessary to increase the salaries of public officers.

John A. Macdonald said that government seemed all day economy, and that they were looking upon this motion as a vote of want of confidence.

After some discussion, the motion was put and lost. Yeas 53; nays 92.

On the item of $1,300,000 for opening up the Northwest Territory, Mr. Massey (Ouellette) moved that no part of this sum should be expended in taking possession by force of arms, of the territory.

Mr. G. E. Carier said the item was not for military purposes. The Government would not have taken such a measure for this purpose.

John A. Macdonald said the motion was too serious to be considered at this late period of the night, and he proposed an adjournment.

After some discussion, the subject was dropped.

The other items were then passed, with the exception of the printing expenditure, which is to be brought down as a separate item.

The Committee then rose and reported, and the House adjourned.

John A. Macdonald moved that when the House rises on Friday, it stands adjourned till 7 o'clock on Saturday, when it shall sit at 12 o'clock.

To the Editor of the Daily Intelligencer.
 Back Taxes.
 DEAR SIR,—I some years ago bought and paid for a lot in Belleville, and have regularly paid my taxes, but some of the owners, escaped, I had always to come down with the money—pretty sharp too. Now, Sir, judge of my astonishment at receiving from the Assessor last week, a notice that my little property was liable to be sold for arrears of taxes. Is there no remedy for such an imposition, or must we endure it patiently? I, for one, am determined not to put up with any such wrong. Perhaps you can show me a way out of the difficulty, and oblige a large number in the same unfortunate position as myself.

Your obedient servant,
 J. F.

Daily Intelligence.

BELLEVILLE, SATURDAY, APRIL 28.

THE EXPEDITION.—A telegram from Ottawa states: "It is stated today that the Red River expedition will consist of one thousand regulars and eight hundred volunteers."

THE ST. GEORGE.—These guns intended for Red River, are expected to arrive in Quebec in a day or two. They are the same that were used in Abyssinia. They weigh only one hundred pounds, but are strong and carry a seven pound ball.

BOARD OF AUDIT.—The Board of Audit, for the County of Hastings under the Statute of 1869-70, met today at the Court House, and audited the accounts for the past quarter. The Board consists of His Honor Judge Sherwood, and Messrs. Appleby and Thomas King, Esquires.

PATRIOTIC VIEWS.—Some of the Montreal merchants threaten to discontinue their employment for taking part in the volunteer movement, whereas the Gazette reminds them that they would do well to remember their own previous services will be available for a draft should that movement fall through.

NARROW ESCAPE.—The Queen and Prince Alexander to-day had a narrow escape while driving near Hyde Park. Their carriage was pursued by a runaway team with a heavy weapon attached. The driver of the royal carriage by his skillful management of the horses avoided a collision.

THE ROBERT CASE.—Hiram Panning and James McCarry, who were yesterday examined before the Police Magistrate and committed for trial on a charge of robbery, which was before reported as taking place on Saturday night, were brought before Judge Sherwood to-day at 2 o'clock, they having elected to be tried summarily. The examination is proceeding as we go to press.

WIDE WITNESS.—Senator Chandler, who has always exhibited an interest in the war to trouble with Canada, is making an effort to get Red River, and for this purpose has been offering a resolution to Congress, directing the President to appoint commissioners or other diplomatic agents to open negotiations with the people of the Winnipeg country with a view of the annexation of that district to the United States, either as a Territory or State.

THE OGDON COMMISSION.—This troops commence their performance in Ontario Hall this evening. The Kingston News thus speaks of their performance in that city: "The first performance of Ogdon's Combined Troupe, took place in Ontario Hall on Monday evening, and was quite a success. The feats of Miss Emma on the tight rope were said to be the best witnessed in Kingston, and the contortion acts of Messrs. Delmar, the bone man, and 'Young America,' the chief wonder, his 'La Tambour Sire' were frequently applauded by the large audience present."

FEARS IN GREAT BRITAIN.—A cable telegram says: "The British have threatened vengeance against the 'Fall Mail' Ogdon" on account of the vigorous course taken by that journal in favor of enforcing the law for the preservation of life and property in Ireland. The proprietors of the "Ogdon" called upon the police authorities for protection, and every night since that a heavy force has patrolled the streets, Northumberland and other streets in that vicinity. The Fenians are unusually active. Reports of arms and other war materials were made by the authorities yesterday at Manchester and Newcastle."

RAREFIED FRENCH.—The great American authority on French Culture has published an excellent and handsome little work on the art, which we have much pleasure in recommending to our readers. Mr. Green proves that raising trout pays better than fattening pigs. He gives all the necessary information as to the method of propagation, and several illustrations in wood cut add to the clearness with which his facts are set down. Any one wishing to engage in the art of raising fish would do well to procure a work which, though highly interesting to all, is especially so to him. It is published by Dewey, Rochester, N.Y., and its price is $1.

Red River News.

Further news from Red River say that Riel had surrendered the McKean River, fifty thousand dollars worth on payment of $3,000 ransom by Gen. McFadyen and $2,000 more when needed.

Riel had arrested and imprisoned the United States Vice-Consul, Major Robinson and Capt. Davidson for a few hours, because they would not take the oath of allegiance.

Riel is said to have only forty or fifty men at present.

The St. Paul Pioneer ridicules the idea of Fenians going to Red River. The people are expecting a peaceful settlement of affairs by the delegates.

Harbor Appropriations.

It will be seen by a debate in the House, when in Committee of Supply, that the door has been opened by which there is some probability of obtaining Government assistance to dredge out Harbor. The sum of $2,400 was appropriated to improve the harbor at the mouth of the River Thames, and when this sum was under consideration, the member for North Hastings took occasion to congratulate the Government upon a change in its policy, and urged that justice be done to Belleville. The harbor here is in the same position as that at the Thames, and there is just as good reason why we should have an appropriation as that. We have already expended large sums upon our harbor, and it will require a still larger sum to make it what it ought to be. It is gratifying to know that the Government policy upon this question has been changed, and it is to be hoped that the efforts to secure assistance will be successful. Would it not be well for the Town Council to send a deputation to Ottawa to lay the matter before the Government, and endeavor to secure a grant in the Supplementary Estimates? The door has been opened to the Thames, and by a persistent knocking now it may be opened to the Mohr.

The debate upon this subject will be found on the first page.

The Fenians.

A great deal of speculation is going on just now as to the probabilities of a Fenian raid. The Globe and other papers of that stamp ridicule the idea, and blame the Government for taking no precautions to prevent it. The same papers blamed the Government in 1866 for allowing the Fenians to cross, and if they had not adopted these timely and necessary precautions now, the probability is the Government would have been condemned for inaction and want of patriotism. It is hard to please some people, and particularly that class who make up their minds not to be pleased under any circumstances.

Our conviction is that the Government acted wisely. The information in their possession was of that character and from such sources that they could not treat it with indifference. They may have been misinformed with regard to the time when the raid was to take place, but it is quite evident from the information we are daily receiving from across the lines of Fenian movements, that an invasion has been contemplated, and it is also very evident that these preparations were not made a moment too soon. It was far better to be prepared than to be caught napping.

The American papers at first laughed at us on account of the scare we had received, and ridiculed the idea of an invasion. But they have changed their tone. It is quite clear that the Fenian leaders have been managing their business much more cautiously than in former years, with less bluster and greater secrecy, and they have even managed to keep their movements from the eyes of the American press. But the action of our authorities has caused them to make enquiries and they find there is something in it after all. They believe that O'Neill is bound to make a raid some time, and they are preparing to assist Riel and his fellow rebels in the North West. For the last few days we have given copious extracts from several of the American papers, showing what Riel contemplates, and giving an account of his movements.

The Boston Traveler, a well informed paper, laughed at us a few days ago, but it has already changed its tone. It says now: "The Fenians are evidently preparing for a raid upon Canada, and the Canadians are making every preparation to 'welcome them' in the language of 'Tom Corwin,' with bloody hands to hospitable graves." As each of the hostile forces is governed by discretion, there is little fear of a serious collision, unless it be in the woods at Winnipeg, where the half-breeds are in rebellion, and may fight if encouraged."

Its regular New York despatches contain the following passage: "As previously stated, mysterious preparations are being made by the Fenians in the vicinity for a raid. The arrangements, according to the most reliable reports, are upon an unusually extensive scale, and it is thought that the Military Council, which is being held in this city to-day, will complete the details for the raid, which, it is said, is to be made in a few days."

A telegram from New York yesterday contains the following: "The Fenian Congress assembled this forenoon and is still in session. Many rumors are in circulation relative to the results of proceedings, but nothing definite known. It is stated there are fifteen Fenian regiments fully equipped in this city, ready to march into Canada at the shortest notice. The Congress will probably conclude to-morrow night."

The Buffalo Express of the 21st says: "We seem to be considerable stir among our residents. Fenians are just now. Several strangers are in town and the 'warriors of the green' are alive to something or other."

The Freshet.

Since yesterday no further damage has occurred to town. The river has fallen fully one inch, and should the present favorable conditions, we may look for a gradual subsidence of the Mohr to its usual spring level. Active operations will be at once commenced to repair the damage already incurred.

A correspondent from Trowel, writing this morning says: "No further damage done here. The water is falling very fast. A break in Look Lake dam is supposed to have helped caused such a great freshet as we have experienced."

A telegram from Campbellford, says: "The river here is still on the rise. The grant and saw mills at Hensley's Falls, owned by Mr. Roman of Kingston, were carried away on Wednesday night. Nearly all the slides, dams and piers on the river are swept away. No timber can be run down the slides this season. The water is running down two of the principal streets. The people are carrying in boats. Several families have been obliged to leave their dwellings. Houses are entirely submerged. The factories and shops along the river are completely flooded. The slide was never seen in Campbellford."

A telegram from Hastings, says: "The flood is very great here, the water being two feet higher than ever before known. The village is to a considerable extent under water, and to prevent the bridge being carried away by the enormous pressure of water against it, many hundred tons of stone have been added to its weight. The slide is expected to go, and several houses have been carried down the river."

Parliament Yesterday.

Sir Francis Hincks moved concurrence on the report of the Committee of Supply and the various items were passed. The Bill to amend the Act respecting the Department of Finance was read a third time and passed.

The interest Bill was opposed by Mr. Mackenzie, who moved an amendment, which was lost on division. Yeas, 80. The bill was then read a second time.

The House then went in Committee on the Bill, when the several clauses were debated, after which the Committee rose and reported the Bill without amendment and the third reading was fixed for to-morrow.

The Canada Central Railway Bill was taken up and Mr. Ferguson made a long speech. The following sentence then ensued: "Sir Geo. E. Cartier called the hon. member to order in English."

Mr. Ferguson asked him to repeat. Sir Geo. E. Cartier did so in French. Hon. J. Sanfield Macdonald replied in English, evidently denouncing the Ministry, and great loud laughter ensued.

Sir Geo. E. Cartier defended the Government in Latin and Greek. (Great applause.) Mr. Abbott protested against the debate being carried on in Chinese. (Laughter.) Sir John A. Macdonald said it was all Greek to him. (Laughter.)

Mr. Lovison spoke in Spanish. Mr. Mackenzie asked him to repeat. Sir Geo. E. Cartier called the hon. member to order in English. The debate should close.

Mr. Mackenzie inquired when the report on the Northwest would be ready. Sir John A. Macdonald said the report had been printed and placed in the hands of the Government to-day, but they had time to examine it; but that he would lay before the House such portions of it as he could comply with the public interest to-morrow.

The House then adjourned at 10:30.

Shipping News.

The steamer is expected to-night, the injury done to her hull will be repaired. The St. Helen and others, we are informed, will not leave for Montreal until Monday the 1st of May.

The St. Lawrence Canada are expected to be opened on the 27th. A number of arrivals and departures are reported at Kingston yesterday. Navigation has been commenced at that port.

Bagin Bay was clear of ice, as far as the eye could reach, on the 11th. There were thirty-two schooners and one tug loaded or loading in Montreal on the 10th.

The Straits of Mackinac are now open. The water at Kingston is almost level with the wharves in that city.

The schooner "Florence Howard" left to-day for Charlotte, with 1,000 railroad ties. The steamer "John Greyson" arrived in port this morning and left again this afternoon.

FROM OTTAWA.

By Special Telegraph. OTTAWA, April 28. Riel and Scott were discharged to-day. There being no evidence sufficient to convict them.

FROM MONTREAL.

By Special Telegraph. MONTREAL, April 28. Twenty-three of the Argentine Rangers and twelve of the Garrison Artillery, have volunteered for Red River.

Capt. Cameron, while here this week, suggested fifteen Canadians to make up a militia of French speaking men for the Red River police.

A mail named Moss Desrocher, aged 80, fell between the cars on the Vermont Central Railroad yesterday, near Point St. Charles, and was so badly injured that he died almost immediately.

Around Town.

Some one came out in all his glory to-day, and a startling effect upon everything around him.

The Fenian Congress of 1869-70 met on Saturday, and deliberated on the place of President and Senators, and the destination of the funds raised for the purpose of raising an army.

The shops on Front Street have put on their spring attire, and the windows here, and their equals are not seen outside of Toronto and Montreal. It is indeed, they have a new look.

The circulation of the "Daily Intelligence" is steadily increasing, and presents an excellent medium for advertising.

St. George's Society is going to have a gala on Monday. With the Star of Bethlehem, the procession will be a grand affair, and the dinner in the evening, presided over by the grandmaster, will be all that could be desired.

The ladies were out to-day in large numbers, and in their prettiest attire. "About this time look swallows," the stanzas say. Remember when we used to get them near the Batteries. Falls more than twenty years ago. Alas! and such a way, how the old times come over us!

The ladies have embellished their hair in various styles, and some have had it curled. Are persons aware that the heave of dirt scraped from the streets makes the best manure?

The Irish Catholic Young Men intend shortly meeting to form a St. Patrick's Brotherhood Society.

The bill in front of the Court House presents a disapparent appearance after the late rains. A little expenditure might be judiciously incurred in repainting it.

Front Street was very brilliant to-day. The sidewalk was obstructed at the usual spot, however. "Move on!"

Business about the wharves is beginning to look brisk. Shipmasters are becoming more plentiful, and there is not so much difficulty in making ships.

The market to-day was pretty well supplied, but the demand was greater than the supply. The Town Council ought to appoint an Inspector of Meat, or give authority to the Clerk or Police to confiscate "staggering" but, a considerable quantity of which was exhibited on the market to-day.

Now is the time to plant shade trees. Can't something be done to cover the terrace in front of the Court House with trees this spring?

Young men who desire to enjoy a pleasant evening in a cheerful and profitable manner, go to the free reading room of the Young Men's Christian Association.

The Silver movement is working well in Belleville. The great bulk of American silver has been carried away. Loss of life is also reported.

What is wanted the most just now to make change easily, is lot of 10 and 20 cent Canadian currency. The Government ought to have had a supply of this coin at all the Banks before the proclamation took effect.

Fish were plentiful on the market this morning, but they were nearly all rotten. The body of a child which was supposed to have been drowned on Thursday evening, has not yet been found. It is supposed to have been carried off by the tide.

The discipline of the Walton are getting their tackle ready. There is no better sailing ground in the Dominion than the Bay of Quinte.

The Fenians.

INDICATIONS OF A SPEEDY MOVEMENT. The following is from the Chicago Times of the 16th inst.:

At 7 o'clock yesterday morning, the Fenian Congress adjourned sine die. The night had been spent in earnest work, and strong measures were resolved upon. Earliest measures were made, and resolves to take determined action were unanimously adopted. After adjournment the several delegates from the Eastern States hurried home to their constituents. It is supposed to prepare them for the coming conflict. The Chicago Brotherhood spent yesterday in the drill-room, perfecting themselves in military drill.

During the day a secret but earnest call to arms was made upon all the brotherhood in this city. It has been responded to with great promptness. A considerable number of Fenians will compose the regular troops, although they are not yet organized. Indeed the Fenians themselves deny that any raid or expedition is in contemplation. They claim that this is not a proper moment; that they are not ready. But in opposition to this it appears that a number of Fenians have been constituted of sufficient force to convey thousands of troops across Lake Ontario and the St. Lawrence River. The necessary boats are now being procured as soon as possible by equal assessments throughout the country. Clothing and other necessities will be furnished by the subscription.

In this city a number of gentlemen have resigned their positions. Others have asked to be relieved of their duties for an indefinite period of time. A newspaper writer of this city, who has long been identified with the Fenian cause, has asked to be relieved of his duties, to commence Monday, in order, he says, to visit friends in New York. All these things are signs of a movement, and it is not to be wondered at that the Fenians are so active.

The steamer "Albion" arrived last night, being the first arrival of the season.

LA Col. Grant, of the "Royals," resigned because a quarrel of some kind was appointed to him for the day.

LA Col. Bolton, Brive's Major of the Royal Artillery here, has been appointed Adjutant General with the staff, proceeding to Red River.

only the more positive, and what? There has already predicted, and that is an early arrival, and the Fenians of this country.

The Fenian Congress of 1869-70 met on Saturday, and deliberated on the place of President and Senators, and the destination of the funds raised for the purpose of raising an army.

A prominent cavalry officer stated in the headquarters of the Brotherhood yesterday, that he would be made until August, but that, meantime, was now going on, but this statement was evidently made for the purpose of creating a wrong impression, and the presence around the headquarters in company with a well known cavalry general, and leading commander, point to the conclusion that some sharp work is in preparation. The deliberations of the Congress which will open to-day will show the truth or falsity of all statements concerning a Canadian raid.

The leading officers of the rival or Savage organization loudly declare that no movement is intended, but that "stamps" is the object. One thing, however, is noticeable in that in making such assertions they confide the charge altogether to the Senate party, and at the same time state that John O'Neill is a man who will do what he likes if he has the power.

The performance will conclude with the Laughable Pantomime.

Daily Intelligence.

SHILLVILLE, TUESDAY, APRIL 28

DEATH.—The old man from the street was thick with dust. The waiting cars will soon have to be cleared out.

TOWN COUNCIL.—Meeting of the Town Council will be held on Thursday night, at the usual hour and place.

PROVINCIAL ELECTION.—There can be little doubt of the election of Mr. Kirkpatrick. At the close of the poll yesterday he had majorities in all the constituencies but two.

COUNTY COUNCIL.—It will be seen by advertisement that a special meeting of the County Council will be held to-morrow, for the purpose of considering the present condition of the Roads and Bridges.

THE DELEGATES.—An Ottawa dispatch says: It is said that a joint letter, signed by Judge Black, Father Richard, and Alfred St. John, has been addressed to Sir J. Macdonald, asking that they may be officially recognized as delegates from the people of Red River.

MILWAUKEE ACCIDENT.—On the 24th inst., at Two, a fine little boy was found drowned in an excavation which is being made for a cellar. He was a step child of W. Wright, who, merchant at 200, was the father of the child. Verdict, "Accidentally drowned."

NEW PAPER.—The Victoria is a new weekly paper published at St. Mary's, the second number of which is before us. On the basis of the Standard and Gazette, two Conservative journals, and containing their own editorial, it comes out as an Independent Liberal Conservative journal. It is a creditable looking sheet.

"GOOD HEALTHS."—The May number of this journal of physical and mental culture abounds with useful and instructive reading. The number before us completes the first volume, bound in cloth, with 100 illustrations, with a carefully prepared index, now ready and offered for sale by the publisher. This volume is valuable as a book of reference, and should be in every household. Price $2.50. Also, for 50c, cloth covers for binding volume one. The regular subscription price of the magazine is $2 a year, or 50c per single copy. Alex. Moore, Boston, Publisher.

RED RIVER.—The Montreal Witness, of yesterday, publishes a letter from Red River, dated March 26th. In addition to what has already been published, it says the Council has voted themselves a salary of $100 per day. The Council has changed the name of the town to an Indian word, "Wateneyanah." The Fenians are the principal trouble, as there has been a new Fenian Legion of 300 men here stationed, with a view to attacking Bishop Tache will do all he can against them, as he had publicly denounced them. Some of the priests who took part in the rebellion have been removed. If Canada gives them self-government, and sends troops at once, all will be well. Red River tells the Yankees that he does not want annexation, but an Independent French-Canadian Republic. All believe the Fenians will be on there in the spring.

A BRACK OF ACCIDENTS.—This morning, between 8 and 9 o'clock, Mr. James Redick, cash manufacturer, was out in a boat prospecting as the river was rising. He was standing on the bank of the river, looking at the boat of the Gilbert's factory, the mooring of the craft gave way, and the boat, with its occupant, was swept under Gilbert's factory into the rapid current, turning bottom up in the operation. Quickly, Mr. Redick succeeded in catching hold of the boat, and mounting upon it, he swept down stream to near the boom, where he was rescued by some friends who put off in boats from the shore. At the lower bridge a crowd assembled to see the novel and exciting spectacle. Despite his inability to swim, Mr. Redick displayed the greatest coolness in his dangerous predicament, and suffered little injury beyond the ducking he received.—Astonish hour after this, Mr. Carlin, better known by his cognomen of "Yankee," fell into the race-way at Pringle's race track, and succeeded, with a hard struggle, in landing safely at Walker's Hotel.

Deaf and Dumb Asylum.

From a communication from the Inspector of Asylums and Prisons, we learn that it is expected that the Institute for the Education of the Deaf and Dumb in a centre of education in Belleville will be ready for the reception of pupils in the fall of 1910. The Institute will be open about a year from that date.

Before these institutions are opened, the Government is desirous of obtaining general information in respect to the Deaf and Dumb and blind of all ages and conditions throughout the Province, and in order to obtain this information blank forms have been forwarded to the various Municipal Councils, with a request that they be filled up in the manner desired.

The circular states that these institutions are to be entirely educational in their character, and may properly be regarded as a part of the great educational system of this Province, and not as a hospital or asylum for the Deaf and Dumb, and the Blind.

Applications for admission will be entertained under the following general conditions:

1st. All deaf and dumb and blind persons of suitable age (say from 7 to 30 years of age), capable of instruction, and bona fide domiciled in the Province, shall be received into these institutions for such a period of time as may be deemed expedient by the proprietors.

2nd. Education and instruction in some professional or manual art, together with lodging to be provided by the Province free of charge to the above named class.

3rd. Parents, guardians or people who are able to pay for board will be charged the estimated cost of the same, payable quarterly in advance.

4th. The Township or County authorities shall make application for the admission of pupils whose parents or guardians are unable to pay, and shall become responsible to the institution for payment of board. Suitable clothing shall also be provided at the expense of such corporation, together with all necessary travelling expenses to and from the institutions.

The Freshet.

A correspondent at Marmora informs us that the freshet has done a large amount of damage in that vicinity. Not in forty years has the water been so high as it was the last two days. Amongst the losses reported are the following:

Mills Carding and Woolen Factory at Marmora was swept down the stream and lodged against the bridge. A portion of the machinery was saved in a damaged condition.

Mr. Pearce suffered considerably by loss of logs and the bridge going by his Mills having been carried away.

The Bridge across the River at Marmora is rendered impassable by the approaching spring freshet and the bridge proper bent and damaged to a considerable extent. A ferry boat is used at that point to carry people across.

The Bridge across the Moira in the vicinity of the Crushers is impassable and owing to the depth of water upon it, the extent of damage is not known.

Several other bridges throughout the Townships have been carried away.

The loss to the county by the destruction of bridges and damaged roads by this flood will be very serious.

Parliament Yesterday.

The Canada Central Railway Bill, after a prolonged discussion, was read a third time and passed.

Mr. Mills moved his promised resolution respecting the admission of the North West, the debate upon which was adjourned.

A number of returns were then moved for and carried.

Mr. Mackenzie asked if the danger of a Fenian invasion had been less than expected, and if the Government were prepared to resist the act of suspending the Habeas Corpus.

Sir Geo. E. Cartier said the Government had certain information on which they acted. The decided action taken had prevented an invasion, and even that day they had received information which would induce them to keep a number of the volunteers at the frontier.

The House then adjourned.

The Prince was with the assembly, from which Mr. Monahan, and presented him with a pair of gloves. He returned to the Hotel Belleville, and on coming from the Queen's son will be highly praised by the red men, and will have a good effect.

St. George's Day.

From time immemorial, it has been the custom of Englishmen to assemble annually on the 23rd April, the day of St. George, the patron saint of Wales, and for the purpose of celebrating the day by the holding of a festival, and by such gatherings are preserved the feelings of national spirit, independence, and charity towards their fellow countrymen, and the world at large. The story of St. George is so life-like, that we give the following respecting his career, with and slaying of the dragon. Courage has ever been a favorite attribute in the eyes of Englishmen, and the day of the dragon slayer must have a right to the national veneration to a great extent.

There was in Lytle, Clogau, the city of Wales, a knight of great renown for a sea, that he terrified the dragon and vanquished it. The people, therefore, assembled to slay him; but when they saw him, his appearance was so terrible that they fled. The dragon pursued them even to the city itself, and the inhabitants were nearly destroyed by his very breath, and suffered so much that they were obliged to give him two sheep every day to keep him from doing them harm. At length the number of sheep became so numerous that they could only give him one sheep every day, and they were obliged to give him a man instead of a sheep. At last, one day, a man named Sir George, a knight of great renown, came to the city, and he was told that the dragon was so terrible that they could only give him one sheep every day, and they were obliged to give him a man instead of a sheep.

The Parliament gave the first toast of the evening. "The Queen," which was drunk with the loudest cheer by Mr. Hurst, "God Save the Queen."

The next toast was "The Prince and Princess of Wales and the Royal Family," which was loudly cheered. Mr. C. J. "God bless the Prince of Wales."

The Governor General was next on the standard toast. "Three cheers for the Governor General." "God bless the Governor General."

"The Army," in response to a call, Mr. O'Connell said "The Red, White and Blue."

Mr. Hume returned thanks on behalf of the Volunteers. He would feel most at home in leading the 10th Battalion over the 400 miles that lay between Port William and Cork (that, then in responding to this toast, he said, "provided they did not meet any old Englishmen, in the way of volunteers, were as good as any in the world, and would prove to be Canada's only available force."

When called upon, they would be ready to stand in the front of battle if required.

The next toast was "The Day, and all who honor it." The President in introducing it, made a happy allusion to the fact that old England, its institutions and the character of its people, and to the land of its adoption, which he characterized as one of the brightest spots on the sun over above.

Mr. O'Connell said that the day was "The Day," which was warmly received and cheered by the company.

OUR PARLY LEXICAL.

PARLY, April 9

Notwithstanding the fact that two and a half millions of francs by a "fabled" of eighteen years standing. It is the only house in Paris where millions were come-at, and the deliquent was head of the gold room—no lane, and by the by, the Israelitish houses have several cripples in its employ. Tassius is a German, and his life showed no indications of his pecuniary. His tastes were confined to providing out a beer and smoking club—he was an admirer of Wagner's music, and an entomologist. His "maisons" was not expensive, and she had less than half the money in her chest, which, according to Hens, is all a man ought to expect from his Aspasia. The sums abstracted were passed to a Prussian doctor to speculate with on change. This gentleman is very ill, and two policemen for nurse-tenders. There is one redeeming feature about Tassius—he was not religious. For five years he was helping himself to the Baron's precious metal; another instance, that the Baron's wife prevented such accidents is to make all trustworthy clerks take a monthly vacation annually. The cashier that gives himself to his stool, should be regarded as a suspect.

It may be remembered that some months ago, M. Puyssier, a retired military officer, was spirited into the lunatic asylum at Charenton, by his wife, who persecuted him. His only folly was to live in an old chapel; no doubt to seek refuge from his wife, as the wife of the star, as it is called. The priests took the matter up—the incarcerated was visited by experts who certified he was sane as themselves—possibly as equivalent complaint—and by others who asserted he was sane as last month's moon. Friends and relatives came forward to take charge of him, but found that while it was easy to have him admitted, all the King's horses and all the King's men could not get him out. A few days later he was brought before the Judges, guarded by keepers. When the Magistrate of the law retired to consider their judgment—which was that they had no power in the matter—the "lunatic" after speaking a few words to his Counsel, told the Judges, as it was imagined. He quietly bolted by a private stair case, and has not yet returned. The scene in court was indescribable; the lawyers laughed till they were hoarse, and there was not a single "keeper" did not examine.

M. Boule, the celebrated "Pet", heard before the Academy of Sciences a remarkable paper on hydrophobia. It appears children when bitten, owing to their moral state, sometimes as a result of their moral state. Further, of 330 persons bitten, 130 only were afflicted by hydrophobia, that once the malady appears, there is no cure for it, and the only preventive is to burn the bite with red hot iron. Many members asserted that cases of madness in dogs was the barbarous habit of "muzzling" him. Marshal Vaillant cited the words of D'Jon—cote the fact, tourists who may visit there next July, where dogs were in the full enjoyment of their senses, and showed no gratitude by never going mad. Another gentleman who lived in Ethiopia for twelve years, said dogs were never muzzled there, and yet he has seen a man die of hydrophobia—a very small detail.

Connected with insanity in general, is the plan set forth by a Frenchman in a petition to the Senate, for the execution of criminals. He suggests that the Jurors, after hearing in their verdict should be retained in their box, and when all things were ready in the prison yard, the Jurors should simultaneously touch an electric wire that would set free the knife of the guillotine. The Senators rejected the petition as contrary to law, justice and humanity.

A celebrated botanist and also maker who has retired from business, has presented as a reward for the discovery of him for his services to the world's celebrities. The lists are ranged, and ticked with the client's names and tabs. Some are long and related to the arena, some are short, and a few threatening—some on the broad gauge, others on the narrow. Now if "he" is so touchy, one might be able to guess what kind were their owners' birds.

Not long ago, a kind curiosity shop in the "city" offered "heretics" the remarkable "list" of names carried out about restricting laws. The St. Augustus Monks at Rome hope that as they exhibit, and make more of the kind of names carried out about restricting laws. The St. Augustus Monks at Rome hope that as they exhibit, and make more of the kind of names carried out about restricting laws.

THE RED RIVER EXPEDITION.

The Volunteers for this Military District assembled at Kingston on Saturday. The Kingston Press says: "The medical examination of the Volunteers for Red River from this Military District, will be held by Dr. Hamilton Major, R. C. R., at the office of Colonel Jarvis, Deputy Assistant Adjutant General, at 9 o'clock on Saturday morning. The men will be attended at the same time. Some two hundred are expected to arrive, and the Volunteers will be billeted in different parts of the city.

Col. Willy left Ottawa to-day for Collingwood, for the purpose of receiving and examining horses destined for the North West Expedition. He will take various arrangements for the early departure of troops for Port William. All such stores as our Government may require will be furnished from the Military Stores. Dr. Schult will proceed the first detachment of troops and arrangements will be made en route for a peaceful passage through their territory. The uniform of the Red River troops will consist of a green tunic, grey trousers, with black stripes, buff moccasins, with red shades. The rifle will be the short British Enfield, and the accoutrements will be new from military stores. The expedition will consist of 1,800 infantry, two batteries of Royal Artillery, a train of Royal Engineers and Mounted Police. This morning's Telegrams of yesterday say: The Toronto, fifteen wagons, which have been loaded with provisions, &c., will be shipped per Northern Railway for Collingwood, where they will be placed on the western. Algonquins and Chibchas, and will be thereby conveyed with the troops to Thunder Bay en route for the Red River. The vehicles are as built as to be easily taken apart and readily put together again. These are the first instalment of a number of such wagons. Messrs. Griffith & Co., and Davis & Co. are almost daily shipping loads to Collingwood, destined to provision the troops at the Red River.

The Telegram referring to the muster of the Queen's Own, at Toronto, says: The muster was anything but a strong one, there being but fifty five present, exclusive of officers and band. This once called volunteer corps is said to be slowly but surely drifting to disorganization, the cause of which is attributed to the disgust of the men at the media opportunist adopted by the Government in selecting volunteers for the Red River expeditionary force, and to the fact that the men want proper uniforms, the want of a suitably lighted place to drill in, &c.

We believe that but four men have so far volunteered to enlist from this battalion for the Red River force, and only one has been recommended. It is said that the attention to be taken by Volunteers before enlisting, is to serve in Red River or else enlist with Toronto. They are part of the stores for the Red River Expedition. The boats for Red River are still lying on Mr. Kingston's wharf, the vessel which is to convey them to Lake Superior not being ready to sail them.

A despatch from Ottawa says: The 60th Rifles have got the route for the Red River. They are expected to leave early next week. If they come in contact with the Fenians on the Red River party, they will be expected to make some good points with the Snider. The Kingston Times of this morning says: Yesterday five tons of military stores, consisting of kaspaches, harnesses, camp kettles, men's shoes, blankets, &c., were removed from H. M. Dockyard, Point Frederick, to the St. Lawrence wharf, where they were shipped on the steamer Kingston. It was reported that the Fenians were part of the stores for the Red River Expedition. The boats for Red River are still lying on Mr. Kingston's wharf, the vessel which is to convey them to Lake Superior not being ready to sail them.

The Fenians.

A Washington despatch to the New York Evening Post contains the following information, some portions of which appear to be semi-official. The British Minister and Secretary Fish have informed that the Fenian leaders have named May 1 as the day when the raid will be made on the Canadian frontier. The United States authorities have provided means by which the minute they are part of the stores for the Red River Expedition. The boats for Red River are still lying on Mr. Kingston's wharf, the vessel which is to convey them to Lake Superior not being ready to sail them.

THE ACCIDENT AT RICHMOND—3 FUGITIVES—A DAY OF HUMILIATION AFFRONTED.

RICHMOND, Va., April 23.—An experienced architect, who has reviewed the plan of the Capitol building, says the gilder which was composed of two pieces of timber bolted together, making, when combined, an arch of 18 by 20 inches. It was formerly supported by columns, which were subsequently removed to improve the appearance of the Hall of Delegates. There were about 25 additional females this evening. Houses could not be obtained for all of them, and furniture was given, appropriately draped, to be used. At the meeting, held to day, it was resolved that the 4th May be observed as a day of humiliation, prayer and religious observance. The streets tonight are as quiet as Sabbath. Active measures are on foot for the relief of destitute families.

APPROPRIATED ASSAULT.

John Martin, the constable of Sullivan in the attack on Wagner on Saturday night, was brought up on the above charge. The evidence was a repetition of that in the case of Sullivan. A fine of $10 and costs was imposed, or 30 days in gaol. If paid, the fine was to be paid at 10 o'clock this afternoon.

DUNK AND DISORDERLY.

Patrick McEvoy, a farmer from Huntington, who was intoxicated and was lodged in the cell all night, was brought up and discharged, this being his first appearance. He was supposed to have had a rather hard night, for he declared that he would rather stay in the cell than be taken there for another night. With a "ferret" God bless your flour, he departed merrily.

ADULTERATE LANGUAGE.

John Clements was charged by John Greig with using abusive and insulting language towards him. The necessary proof being adduced, Clements was called upon to pay $1 and costs, payable in 10 days, or 10 days in gaol.

OBSTRUCTING HIGHWAY.

The next case on the docket was that of John Glick, a pedlar, who was charged with obstructing a highway by placing his wares on the sidewalk. A considerable amount of evidence was taken, and the case was laid over till Monday.

CARTRIDGE ACCIDENT.

John Sutherland, who was charged with breaking a wagon by careless driving, settled the matter by paying the damages and the costs of Court.

This concluded a heavy day's business.

Marine News.

It is reported that a way will be established on the Western Canal between Dundas and Toronto, and that a line of steamers will be run at intervals of the through route, or twice and a half each per day.

The steamer "Peyton" ran the Long Lake Rapids yesterday morning being the first boat of the season.

Navigation is now fairly opened on the River St. Lawrence and on the Ottawa.

It is wonderful how some of the simplest contrivances are longed for in the most advanced state of civilization. It is the case with the invention of glass we have been employed, to say the least, by the thousands of cold air, clouds of dust, rain, great clatter during a thick wind, or even a storm of snow, etc., were forced to through the crevices or exposed as at various points.

Doors also, (in fact more so than windows) have been a source of trouble and annoyance. It is obvious that the most costly, elegant and troublesome contrivances have been used to stop the draught, to stop the rain, to stop the snow, to stop the wind, to stop the sun, to stop the moon, to stop the stars, to stop the planets, to stop the universe.
